Comments on the 7/23 Draft Design Recommendations for the WCI Cap and Trade Program

These comments are submitted on behalf of Interfaith Power and Light organizations in California, Oregon, Alaska, Utah, New Mexico and Washington and our member congregations. Thank you for providing us with the opportunity to participate in the process of creating a regional policy to address global warming. We have attended public hearings in Salt Lake City and in San Diego, and submitted a petition signed by hundreds of our members.

Members of the Interfaith Power and Light (IPL) Campaign are called by our faith to be stewards of creation. We believe that global warming is the most urgent moral issue of our time. Climate change will affect all of us, but it is the world's poorest and most vulnerable citizens – those who have had the least role in creating this problem – who will suffer the most.

Therefore, it is critical to develop a policy that will be both effective and equitable. Emissions reductions must begin immediately and they must be reduced to the levels scientists tell us are necessary to avoid catastrophic climate change.

IPL supports a rapid transition to a clean energy economy, and the WCI process has highlighted the many opportunities for our region. We want to ensure that all members of society, especially those communities that have traditionally borne the brunt of polluting energy, are able to fully participate. We must also provide funding to ensure that low-income households are not disproportionately affected by volatile energy prices.

Therefore, we were disappointed that our values and concerns are not reflected in the draft cap-and-trade design elements. The most significant problems in the proposed plan, as we see them, are:

- Failing to commit to make polluters pay for their pollution permits (thereby passing the cost on to the public)

- The subsequent failure to provide a revenue mechanism for public purpose programs
- Allowing polluters to buy “offsets” for a significant portion of total emissions, which means there may be no net reductions from the WCI program from 2012 to 2020.

We urge the WCI to address these flaws by requiring 100% of the emissions credits to be auctioned and the funds put to public purposes, and by curtailing the ability of emitters to use offsets to avoid actual reductions. Funds from the auction should support a rapid transition to a clean energy economy with the full participation of low-income communities and citizens.

Specifically, we urge you to ensure that public purpose funds are available for:

- Assistance for higher energy costs incurred by lower income citizens, such as bill paying assistance, to prevent severe economic hardship on those most affected by higher energy costs
- Developing more energy efficient infrastructure to help low-income communities increase energy efficiency
- Developing transportation alternatives to provide clean, low-cost options for commuting
- Providing green job training and education for workers moving from traditional energy industries to clean industries.

We believe these recommendations are both economically viable and morally imperative. Appended below is a faith community petition with 580 signatures addressed to the WCI partners that we would like to submit as part of our comments.

Thank you for inviting our participation in this vital process. We hope you will find these comments constructive. By considering the least among us – the poor, the sick, the very young, the very old – those least able to advocate for themselves – we will protect our climate while we create a more just society and a more hopeful future.

Faithfully,

People of Faith for Climate Justice

Make the western states' global warming plan just, fair and effective!

Global warming endangers the life-support systems for all creation and puts at risk the most vulnerable --those living in poverty, the elderly, those in ill health and children. As the most pressing moral issue of our time, global warming calls for effective and immediate action. We thank the Partners of the Western Climate Initiative (WCI) for their strong leadership at the regional level in the absence of national action. The Western Climate Initiative will create the potential for seven western states and four Canadian provinces to reduce their greenhouse gas emissions to scientifically-based targets while fostering the new energy economy of the 21st century. As people of faith, We heartedly urge you to embrace the following elements in finalizing the WCI framework:

- Alleviate global warming-induced suffering for the world's poor and the most vulnerable.
- Ensure that states and provinces distribute carbon emission allowances and revenues in a fair and equitable manner
- Designate a portion of allowances, or revenues from allowance auctions, to assist low-income people in adapting to WCI through intensive energy efficiency programs, transportation alternatives, and bill payment assistance.
- Ensure that working people can transition to new green jobs, and that worker retraining is available for that purpose.
- Ensure WCI's scope includes transportation fuels in order to maintain the environmental integrity of WCI and to achieve the lowest cost economy-wide emissions reductions
